

SUCCESS GIBBONS
Dioecesan Bishops Expected to Submit Three to Vatican Within Two Months.
FUNERAL IS ARRANGED
Notable Group of Church Officials to Take Part in Striking Spectacle.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
BALTIMORE, March 25.—More than a hundred Bishops, fourteen Archbishops, almost all of the priests in the diocese of Maryland and representatives of every Catholic order in the United States will take part in the funeral services of James Cardinal Gibbons in the cathedral here next Thursday.

The funeral will be represented by Mr. John Bozano, apostolic delegate to the United States and the Pope's nuncio at Washington, and the embassies of Catholic countries at Washington also will send representatives. Cardinal O'Donnell of Boston and Cardinal Bonzano will pontificate at the high requiem mass and the striking spectacle will be presided over by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, who preached at Cardinal Gibbons' golden jubilee in 1911.

The body of the prelate lies in state in his cathedral until after Easter Sunday. It is dressed in a purple chasuble, the vestment worn at the mass; white alb, purple sippers and purple hose, with the Cardinal's cassock beneath chasuble and alb. His hands, crossed on his breast, hold a crucifix.

The white mitre, the tall pointed hat which he wore during ceremonies, is on his head. A purple spread covers the bed. Christian Brothers have relieved the priests of the household as watchmen, and they are sleeping in the room. When the body is removed to the cathedral they will be relieved by the seminarians and delegates from the men's organizations of the church.

The work of draping the exterior of the cathedral with mourning began today. There will be no mourning in the interior until Thursday, the day of the funeral. Even on that day the draping will be confined to that part of the church outside the chancel rail. There will be no mourning placed about the altar.

The masses will be held each day as told in THE NEW YORK HERALD this morning, and white robes will be worn by the priests at each of them until Thursday, when they will wear black. The funeral procession which will form a part of the services promises to be one of the most striking spectacles Baltimore has ever seen, with Cardinals, Archbishops, Bishops, monsignors, abbots from the monasteries and representatives of all church organizations.

It is believed in ecclesiastical circles here that the next Archbishop of Baltimore and the successor of Cardinal Gibbons as the primate of the American hierarchy will be either Bishop William T. Russell of Charleston, S. C.; Bishop Dennis O'Connell of Richmond, Va.; Bishop Thomas J. Shahan of the Catholic University, or Bishop Michael C. Curley of St. Augustine, Fla. According to the usual custom, the Bishops of the diocese will meet in secret conclave here within the next two months and will discuss the merits of the various candidates for the place. The result of this discussion will be the recommendation of three names, which will be voted on by the Pope. He will surely select the next Archbishop from these names, although he is not required to do so.

The cardinal who has been selected by the Pope as administrator of the archdiocese pending the selection of an Archbishop.

POPE DEEPLY MOVED BY CARDINAL'S DEATH
'Name Will Go Down in History,' He Declares.

By the Associated Press.
Rome, March 25.—The death of Cardinal Gibbons caused the most profound grief at the Vatican, causing a particular shock to Pope Benedict, who had just written a letter of congratulation to the Cardinal, having heard he had recovered his health.

"Both the Church and America have lost one of their greatest men," exclaimed the Pontiff. "The name of Cardinal Gibbons will go down in history." His Holiness had a long time voicing his grief and remained a long time at the prie dieu in the deepest prayer.

As the news spread throughout the Vatican expressions of the sincerest condolence were uttered on all sides. Mr. Corretti, the Papal Under Secretary of State, was especially affected by the loss. He voiced his long time intercourse with the Cardinal, remarking feelingly that posterity would be certain to retain the memory of the dead prelate both for his achievements as a statesman and his worth as an American citizen.

Cardinal Dougherty was deeply affected by the death of Cardinal Gibbons. He said, "The Church in America has lost the greatest man in its history and our country its foremost citizen. He was the only survivor of the Vatican council which met under Pius IX. and also of the Bishop's Third Plenary Council in Baltimore, and was the oldest member of the Sacred College of Cardinals. Several generations of Catholics in the United States looked to him as their leader. Americans, irrespective of creed, regarded him as a patriot and guide."

Cardinal Gibbons' salient traits of character seem to have been his interest in men and the progress of the world, and his rare judgment, his tact and his kindly sympathy for every thing human. He had the honor as a student in the American College to serve as an acolyte when Cardinal Gibbons took possession of his titular church of Santa Maria in Trastevere in 1887, the year after he had created a Cardinal.

The Pontiff, Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, and Mr. Corretti sent heartfelt messages of sympathy to Baltimore, and Mr. O'Hara, rector of the American College, also called his personal condolences and those of the officials of the college.

Preparations are being made for the celebration of a solemn requiem mass for the late Cardinal in his titular church.

NEW CUNARDER LAUNCHED.
The newest Cunarder, the Albatross, has been launched at the yards of Sir W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., Newcastle on Tyne, a cable to the local office of the line arrived yesterday.

She is the sixth ship in her class to take the water since the line began its post war building programme. She is an all burner, 531 feet long, measures 18,000 tons gross and has accommodations for 1,700 cabin and third class passengers.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES WELL ATTENDED HERE
Business Generally Put on Half Holiday Basis.
Fine weather, which approached that of summer in temperature, brought thousands of people yesterday to the many services in commemoration of Good Friday.

The Stock Exchange and Curb market suspended operations for the day and business as a whole was more or less on a half holiday basis, so church services in the morning, afternoon and evening were all well attended. The three hour services between noon and three o'clock were perhaps the most popular. An address on the Seven Last Words was made at the Church of the Heavenly Host, Fifth avenue, near Forty-third street, by the rector, the Rev. Herbert Shipman. At Grace Church, St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Church of the Transfiguration, Calvary Church, Old Trinity, St. Paul's Chapel, St. Thomas', the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and at many other crowds gathered.

County Judge Frank L. Young refused yesterday to impose any sentence in the Westchester County Court because today was Good Friday.

Friday is the anniversary day of the court, and a long line of prisoners who had been convicted were about to be led in turn before the Judge by deputy sheriffs when he announced that he would mete out no penalties.

ACCUSED SLAYER OF 'SLAVES' DENIES ALL
Georgia Farmer's Reply to Murder Charge.

ATLANTA, March 25.—A general denial to charges that he had worked negroes as slaves and then had eleven of them killed when they threatened to run away was made here to-night by John Williams, Jasper county farmer, who was brought to the Fulton county Tower for safe keeping.

Williams, who was indicted on a charge of murder yesterday at Covington, Ga., during a Grand Jury investigation of the finding of three negroes in a river near there, told a story of a long feud between his family and neighbors, who he said threatened to "break our necks in the Federal court."

The charges against Williams were made by Clyde Manning, a negro laborer on the Williams plantation, who, with another negro, Clyde Freeman, was brought here yesterday and held in connection with the case. The confession attributed to Manning described how he and two other negroes were taken to a river near there and thrown into the river to drown. Only three bodies have been discovered in a search of the river.

Williams, who charged a "frame-up," declared that seven years ago he arose between himself and members of a Levee family over land lines and stray cattle. Last fall, he said, his sons were accused of operating a still and "later he and Dave Leverett had a fight."

Williams, who is 54 years old and the father of twelve children, said he never had been arrested before and that he had employed counsel and was going to prove he was not guilty of the charges. The investigation in Covington has not yet ended.

Justice Manning in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn granted yesterday to a number of Brooklyn surface and elevated lines a writ of certiorari requiring the State Tax Commission to show cause in Albany on May 5 why the franchise assessment of the lines should not be reduced. The total assessment of the petitioning lines is $39,077,380, much more than the $12,704,132 too much.

The parties to the suit are the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, the South Brooklyn Railway Company, the Prospect Park and Coney Island Railroad Company, the Coney Island and Gravesend Railroad Company, North Beach Railroad Company, Nassau Electric Railroad Company, New York Consolidated Railroad Company, Brooklyn, Queens and Suburban Railroad Company, Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company.

HANAN'S WIDOW GOT ALL DUE HER, IS REPLY
Members of Shoe Firm Deny Shortage in Payments.

Mrs. Ethel Hanan Taylor, widow of Alfred P. Hanan, who, since her marriage, has been living in Paris, got her share of the estate of her late husband, according to answers filed yesterday in the Supreme Court by Herbert W. Hanan, executor of the estate of the late Alfred P. Hanan, surviving members of the shoe manufacturing firm of Hanan & Son.

They are defendants in an action begun for an accounting of the affairs of the company, alleged to have been members failed to pay to her husband's estate his share in the profits and assets of the business, and in which she sought either the appointment of a receiver pending the outcome of the proceedings or a bond of $12,000,000 to be furnished by the survivors.

Their answers are supported by a third answer, that of the late Alfred P. Hanan, as executor. All allege that the conditions of the partnership call for a payment of 10 per cent. of the undivided profits of the firm to the estate of a deceased member and the liquidation of his stock at par. Such payments were made, they allege, and nothing further is due.

The surviving members also filed notices of a motion to change the venue of the action to Kings county, as the Hanan manufacturing business was in Brooklyn.

SAYS GAYNOR PAID BIG SUMS TO SON'S WIFE
That the late Mayor William J. Gaynor paid to Mrs. Mary Gamman a "large sum of money" upon her promise not to contest the appointment submitted against her in 1910 by his son, Rufus W. Gaynor, is recited in affidavits submitted yesterday to Supreme Court Justice Newburger in connection with Mrs. Gamman's action for preparation from Nelson Gamman, lawyer, whom she married a year after the Gaynor marriage, and who in turn is seeking to divorce her in Porto Rico, where he lives.

Justice Newburger denied the request for alimony because her husband, in his answer to her suit, contends that the money was given to her as a gift, and that the action on the same ground as the Gaynor annulment action—that at the time he married her first marriage, to Salvatore Gullino in 1905, was in full effect, Gullino's divorce action not having been settled.
